

WALKED TO DEATH.

Somnambulist Dore Falls Out of a Window and Is Killed.

His Wife, Aroused by a Cry, Sees Him Fall.

All His Life He Had Had the Habit of Sleep Walking.

Shortly after midnight this morning Richard Dore, of 241 West sixty-sixth street, while walking in his sleep, fell out of the window of his room into the yard, striking his head and dying instantly.

Dore and his wife and three children occupied a room on the second floor in the rear, and were regarded by their neighbors as a very quiet and respectable family.

Last night Dore came home as usual from work at the Cedarhurst Stables, in West Eighty-third street, where he was a groom, and went to bed.

At about midnight Mrs. Dore, who had been trying to get her baby to sleep and had fallen into a doze, heard a short outcry.

She sprang to her feet in time to see her husband descending through the window. Her screams soon awakened the neighbors, one of whom notified the police of what had happened.

Two policemen found Dore in the back yard lying dead with his skull crushed amid a lot of shattered flower pots which he had smashed in falling.

The body was carried upstairs to the Dore apartments where it is now awaiting the arrival of the coroner.

Mrs. Dore's grief is appalling. She is a refined-looking woman of about thirty. She goes about wringing her hands, but utters no cry.

She looks the image of mute despair. Now and then she says, in a scarcely audible voice:

"What will become of the children?"

Mrs. Murphy, of 417 Sixth avenue, a sister of the deceased, hurried over to the Dore home as soon as she was apprised of her brother's death. To an Evening World reporter who saw her there Mrs. Murphy said:

"My brother was a somnambulist all his life. As a child he often got himself into dangerous places while asleep. There can be no doubt that he was in this condition when he fell out of the window."

Mrs. Murphy scouted the idea of possible suicide.

"My brother," she said, "was a pious Catholic; he was sober and industrious and of a cheerful disposition. Besides, he loved his family, who depended entirely upon him for support. It is preposterous to even think of suicide."

The unfortunate man's three little children seemed conscious that some calamity had befallen them, although they did not fully realize its extent.

The two older ones stood in a corner of the room, where the dead man lay on his back, and gazed curiously at the unusual black object, and even the six-months-old baby was hushed.

At the Cedarhurst stables, where Dore had been working, Mr. Hempstead, one of the proprietors, said to THE EVENING WORLD reporter:

"Dore was an exceptionally good man. His work was perfect. In the nine months that he was with us, we grew very much attached to him."

One of his mates at the stable actually cried when he heard of Dore's death. Everybody liked him. He was a big man, nearly six feet tall. We are all sorry to have lost him."

Mr. Hempstead also said that he did not know the circumstances of Mrs. Dore, but would call to make inquiries, and if necessary afford her relief.

WAS JEALOUS OF A DEAD MAN.

So, Mrs. Mayer Says, Her Husband's Affections Were Lost.

An odd romance was unfolded this morning in the Lee Avenue Police Court, Brooklyn.

Seven months ago Richard Mayer, foreman of a factory on Gerry street, near Marcy avenue, Williamsburg, married. His young wife came all the way from Germany to wed the man she loved.

For a short time they lived happily at 192 Varot street, but this morning the young wife called at the Lee Avenue court and asked for a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Julia Reia, who lives in the same building, on a charge of alienating the affections of her husband.

She told the court that her husband, while giving her money to live, would not live with her, but took his meals and lived with Mrs. Reia.

This Mrs. Reia, she said, had heard that at one time she had a lover named Albert Natzke and informed her husband of it.

Although Albert Natzke was dead for several years her husband was jealous of him and would not live with her. Whenever his name was mentioned a scene followed, the young husband always going crazy through jealousy.

Mrs. Mayer was told that the law could afford her any relief under the circumstances.

LOOO HOUSES FLOODED.

Five Square Miles of Chicago's Suburbs Under Water.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Chicago, June 27.—Five square miles of territory adjacent to the village of Deshler, a suburb of this city, are buried beneath a flood. The great body of water which has been collecting in the lake region burst the last barrier yesterday afternoon at Eighty-seventh street, and rushed down with terrific force upon Grand crossing.

The citizens are panic-stricken by the sight of the sea of rising water, which invaded every home, driving householders either from their dwellings or to second-story windows.

At Fordham and Duane park the suffering was only less in the degree that there were fewer to suffer.

Early this morning the flood reached Duane, a village about a mile and a half from Grand crossing, and rose at the rate of an inch an hour.

More than a thousand houses between state street and Lake Michigan have been flooded. As yet no loss of life has been reported.

Dr. Mary Walker and the World's Fair.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Chicago, June 27.—Dr. Mary Walker has written to Director-General Davis asking that a costume department be established at the World's Fair, and that she be placed in charge. Director-General Davis's private secretary says the application will receive due consideration.

Carrier Pigeon No. 103, A. D. C. F. Carrier pigeon No. 103, A. D. C. F., is probably overdue somewhere, as it boarded the schooner Francis H. Baird, on the Jersey state on Saturday afternoon completely exhausted and unable to proceed.

Death Came Quickly. Alexander McKinnley was taken ill with heart disease at 1.15 o'clock this morning at his home, 429 West 144th street. He was taken in an ambulance to Roosevelt hospital, where he died at 2.45 a. m.

THE DIXON-JOHNSON "GO."

All Ready for the Feather-Weight Championship Fight To-Night.

Dixon a Favorite in the Betting, but Johnson's Friends Confident.

George Dixon, of Nova Scotia, feather-weight champion of the world, and Fred Johnson, of England, will fight with small gloves to a finish at the Coney Island Athletic club to-night for the championship and a $5,000 purse.

GEORGE DIXON.

This is by all odds the most important match the Coney Island A. C. has yet had, and is one of the notable contests of the year. Such events as the Maher-Phillis and Sullivan-Corbett battles only rank above it.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

Both of the men have splendid records in the roped arena. Dixon's record is perhaps the better, and he is carrying a larger portion of the money. The odds on the colored man vary from $500 to $600 to $500 to $350, and there is said to be $100,000 of Dixon money. The Johnson men are just as confident of winning, however.

VEGA SAFE IN PORT.

Still Mystery as to the Vessel Which Sunk the Yarmouth Ship.

The Supposed Lost Steamship Arrived at This Port To-Day.

Fears of the Safety of the Italy, Catania, Lydia and Venturina.

The steamship Vega, which the agents feared had been in a collision at sea with the sailing vessel Fred B. Taylor, arrived at the South Atlantic Dock this morning. She is commanded by Capt. Rosa, who reported to her agents, G. Aminek & Co., of 148 Pearl street, that he had not seen the Taylor. Hence, the mystery with regard to the captured vessel, supposed to be the Taylor, remains unsolved.

The first news of a wrecked vessel in mid-ocean was brought to port by Capt. Cassen, of the Dutch steamer Ocean. He reported sighting the after half of a large sailing vessel, which had evidently been out in a storm.

The belief that the ill-fated vessel was the Taylor is founded on the fact that she is several days overdue, and that the stern half sighted by the Ocean's captain bore the name of Yarmouth, N. S., the port from which the Taylor hailed.

The Taylor is a big British sailing ship, and sailed from Havre forty-four days ago. She is owned by William Law, of Yarmouth, N. S., and was chartered by Paul Gerhard, of the Brazil Mail Steamship Company, for John Dunn & Son, of 74 Wall street, who intended loading her for Buenos Ayres. She was commanded by Capt. F. E. Harbert, and carried a crew of twenty-two.

Capt. Harbert is only twenty-eight years old, but was considered a good seaman. His home is in Yarmouth, and he has held a master's certificate for four years. He has been married a little over a year. His wife, who is as tall as the Englishman by nearly an inch, was born to a lady by last Wednesday.

Mrs. Harbert accompanied her husband to Havre on the Taylor's voyage over, but returned on a passenger vessel.

The average speed of the Taylor was about 17 1/2 miles a day.

She was spoken in latitude 49 degrees 23 minutes north and longitude 55 on June 19 by a steamship bound for this port. If she had continued at the same rate of speed she would have arrived on June 19. The floating wreck was seen about 400 miles west of where the Taylor was sighted, or 500 miles east of Sandy Hook.

Paul Gerhard, whom the Taylor was consigned to, said this morning that he had heard nothing from the Taylor since she sailed.

"The fact that the wreck carried the address 'Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily indicate that the vessel was the Taylor. There are about 100 ships sailing from Yarmouth, and all have the address."

He said that the wreck carried the address "Yarmouth, N. S.," he continued, "does not necessarily